CONVOCATION STATUS

Undergraduate Faculties

- consult your Faculty Office after November 1, 1999, only if you are unsure of your status

Faculty of Graduate Studies and Research

To verify your Convocation status —

Upon completion of your thesis or program requirements, your Department will advise the Faculty of Graduate Studies and Research to add your name to the Convocation List. Consult the Faculty of Graduate Studies only if you are unsure of your status.

All Faculties

To verify your Convocation name and degree program —

- return the enclosed white card which indicates your full Convocation name and your degree program as it will appear on your degree parchment. If this information is incorrect, make the appropriate changes on this card. Please note the name on your degree parchment should match your name on other legal documents such as your birth certificate or passport; nicknames or initials will not be printed on your parchment. This will help you avoid future difficulties if you require proof of your academic credentials in order to work or study in another country. Any computerized abbreviations of your degree and specialization noted on the white card will be printed in full on the parchment.

CEREMONY DATE, TIME AND LOCATION

Ceremonies are held in the Northern Alberta Jubilee Auditorium, 114 Street and 87 Avenue, Edmonton, Alberta.

All Convocation ceremonies begin at 2:00 pm promptly and end at approximately 4:30 pm. Check Table 1 for the date of your faculty's ceremony.

Guests and graduates must be seated by 1:50 pm in preparation for the Academic Procession.

CEREMONY ATTENDANCE

To verify your attendance at Convocation —

- complete the reverse side of the white card indicating your intention to attend the ceremony and return it to this office before the specified date (*) to ensure that a seat is reserved for you with your fellow graduates. Your reserved seat ticket, as well as your guest tickets, can be picked up according to the times noted on Table 1 ... or
- advise us if you do not plan to attend the ceremony by completing and returning the enclosed white card so that we may make arrangements to mail your parchment after Convocation. Ensure that the address on the card is correct. Those students not attending Convocation will have their parchments mailed the week of November 22, 1999. If you wish to pick up your parchment in person, you may do so on November 19 at the Office of the Registrar & Student Awards, 2nd Floor, Administration Building.

* Due to publishing deadlines for the Convocation program, students who return their cards after this specified date may not have corrections to their names published in the program.

REFRESHMENTS

Graduates and their guests are invited by the University of Alberta and the Alumni Association to remain at the Auditorium after the conclusion of the ceremony for light refreshments. You may wish to designate a meeting place before the ceremony to help locate your guests at the reception. Individual faculties may have other special events scheduled for their graduates; please contact faculty offices directly for information.

CONVOCATION PACKETS

Graduands who wish to attend the Convocation ceremony must pick up their Convocation Packets during the times indicated in Table 1. The packet consists of the following items:

- Name Card and Ticket
At the ceremony, you will hand the Name Card to the Dean of your faculty, who will announce your name as it is printed on this card. The Ticket is an assigned seat to place you in the order that graduates cross the stage; this ticket is additional to tickets for your guests.
- Parchment
This is the official documentation of your academic credential containing your name, degree/specialization and academic honors (academic honors, such as "with distinction" are not printed on the enclosed white card, but will appear on the parchment if applicable).
- Procedures for Graduands
This brochure describes your role and provides instructions to be followed during the ceremony.
- Graduand Survey
The University of Alberta is sponsoring this survey of Graduate Studies and Research graduates to help evaluate many aspects of the graduate experience here. The results will be used to improve your University for future classes of students. Completed surveys may be returned via Canada Post or deposited in the boxes located in the Administration Building or Jubilee Auditorium.
- Guest Tickets
Four guest tickets * are reserved for graduands who advise us of their intention to attend the ceremony. If you would like to invite more than four guests, you may request additional seating, * pending availability, at the time you pick up your packet. We regret that we are unable to accommodate telephone requests for tickets.

* As the number of available guest tickets is projected according to past attendance records, the actual number of additional seats available is not known until graduates begin to pick up their tickets. The Registrar's Office therefore reserves the right to change the number of guest tickets as required by graduand attendance. Extra tickets may become available as graduands take less than their maximum. Any tickets not distributed during the times noted in Table 1 will be made available at the Coffee Bar, main floor, Jubilee Auditorium, after 1:30 pm on the day of the ceremony.

Appropriate photo identification, preferably a University of Alberta ID card, must be presented when you pick up your packet. If you cannot pick up the packet yourself, it will only be released to an individual who presents a signed letter of authorization from you. You may use the Letter of Authorization for the Office of the Registrar in Figure 1 (page 7) for this purpose.

ACADEMIC APPAREL

Academic apparel must be worn by all graduands participating in the ceremony. Apparel is distributed from the Students' Union Building, University Bookstore, Lower Level only during the times and dates specified in Table 1. Please allow ample time to collect your apparel; hours will not be extended from published times.

If you are unable to personally pick up your apparel, you may complete the Authorization portion of Figure 1 (page 7) so that your designate may do this for you.

Semi-formal attire is appropriate for the ceremony; it is suggested that suit jackets not be worn under the gown as it may be overly warm. Apparel should not be decorated with jewellery or flowers. Please take care not to wrinkle the gown.

Academic apparel rental rates are as follows (these rates include GST (7%)):

Undergraduates & Masters	$21.00
Doctorates	$26.00

Therefore, you are urged to clear all outstanding accounts at least one week prior to Convocation to ensure that your parchment is available.

PARKING

You may use the Letter of Authorization for Parking Services in Figure 2 (page 7) to obtain one hour of free parking at the Stadium Parkade or the Education Parkade during the distribution of Convocation Packets and academic apparel. A $6.00 parking fee will be required upon entering the parkade but will be refunded if you exit within the hour.

Greetings to the Graduates

As we go through life, our progress is marked by special moments when we turn corners and new horizons open before us. This convocation of scholars celebrates the happy observance of such an important turning point in your lives.

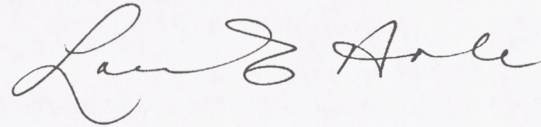

The ceremony is steeped in customs that have been passed down to us over the centuries. It is sedate, colorful, traditional, and meaningful. We hope you enjoy the experience and participate in the goodwill that permeates a day to be remembered.

By conferring its degrees, the University confirms that you have successfully fulfilled a rigorous course of study and have earned the right to enter into the collegiality of educated women and men. Be proud of what you have done, and be grateful for what the University has done for you.

Understand that the University of Alberta is not just the campus which you know so well. It is everything that our graduates of yesterday, today, and tomorrow accomplish to make our world a better place to live in. Today you join a worldwide community of alumni, a hundred thousand strong, whose support and interest is vital to the enhancement of the quality and the value of the degrees which you receive today. Keep in touch, and never forget the University that nurtured the mind you use every day. You entered to grow in wisdom. You leave the better to serve your community and yourselves.

Welcome and Congratulations.

Lois E Hole, CM
Chancellor

Universities began as small collections of scholars who worked together to preserve and advance knowledge. Students came to study with them and, in due course, an administrative structure arose to provide system and recognition for those studies. This ancient structure is preserved at the University of Alberta, with the faculty and the students providing the core of the University's purpose: teaching and the advancement of knowledge. The faculty's task is facilitated by their colleagues in the academic staff, the Faculty Service Officers, the Administrative Professional Officers and the Librarians, and the University's dedicated support staff.

The faculty, numbering some 1,600, is responsible for creating programs of study, for teaching, and for evaluating the learning of the student body, both undergraduate and graduate. In addition, faculty members are responsible for the scholarly reputation of the University by preserving and sharing knowledge and by pursuing new ideas and knowledge through their research.

The faculty and staff congratulate you, the graduates, on the successful completion of your present studies which is recognized by the degrees to which you are admitted today. Your achievement deserves praise. We hope your present knowledge provides a sound base for an education which will continue throughout a rewarding life. We would remind you of the advice given to graduands by Honorary Degree Recipient Tommy Banks: "Try to be a good person. You will be amazed how rewarding it is."

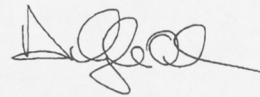

Congratulations from the Faculty and Staff!

Our lives are often marked by special milestones that leave indelible impressions on us. For students, convocation is a celebration of achievement that creates lasting memories.

I am pleased to join family members and friends in congratulating you on your convocation. It takes a great deal of dedication and commitment to successfully obtain a goal such as this. You can be proud of your perseverance and success.

Graduates of the University of Alberta are reflective of the talent and creativity that exists in our province. The skills and knowledge you have obtained during your academic career will stand you in good stead throughout your life.

On behalf of the Government of Alberta, I wish you success in all of your endeavours.

Lyle Oberg, Minister
Department of Learning

Honorary Degree Recipient

On Friday, 22 October 1999, a Special Convocation was held to confer the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws upon Mr Laurence George Decore.

An outstanding Canadian, Laurence Decore has served the City of Edmonton, the province of Alberta and Canada with considerable distinction and dignity over several decades. His significant contributions to Canadian public life are noteworthy for their breadth.

An alumnus of the University of Alberta, Mr Decore graduated with a BA in Arts and Sciences in 1961 and an LLB in 1964. At the age of 24, he built a major hotel in Jasper; at 30 he co-founded QCTV Ltd (later purchased by Videotron Ltd, now Videon). He has served as a director of a number of private Alberta companies.

Mr Decore began his distinguished political career at the municipal level when he was elected as an alderman for the City of Edmonton in 1977. He was elected Mayor of Edmonton in 1983 with the largest majority in the city's history to that point, and was re-elected in 1986 with an even larger majority. As Mayor, he implemented a complete change in the makeup of Edmonton's civic government. Under the new system, there was a clearer line of accountability at both the political and administrative levels. Under his tenure the City won three awards of excellence from the international Government Finance Officers' Association for debt management and control and for its new budget system. Due to his visionary policies, Edmonton will be debt-free by 2010.

Mr Decore moved to provincial politics, winning the leadership of the Alberta Liberal Party in 1988. He was elected to the Legislature in 1989 and won re-election in 1993. From relative obscurity in 1987, he led the Liberals to a position of electoral strength in 1993, unprecedented since the first decades of the century. His focus on fiscal responsibilities, government accountability and transparency, and freedom of information helped set the political agenda for the 1989 and 1993 elections. He also championed the importance of education and equality of access for K to 12 and to post-secondary institutions.

An acknowledged pioneer and visionary in his clear recognition of Canada's growing ethnic and cultural diversity, and a tireless worker on behalf of the Ukrainian community, he has been a lifelong proponent of multiculturalism. Since 1969 he has served on the Ukrainian community's standing committee on multiculturalism. From 1972-1973 he was the first chairman of the Alberta Heritage Council which became instrumental in establishing multiculturalism as an important issue in Alberta. The group's achievements were subsequently duplicated in many provinces. From 1980 to 1983 Mr Decore served as chairman of the Canadian Multiculturalism Council, an advisory committee to the Federal Minister which represented more than 100 of Canada's ethnic communities. During his term, he organized a powerful lobby to convince the Prime Minister to include formal recognition of Canada's multicultural nature in the new Canadian Constitution (S. 27). In 1983, in recognition of his services to the Ukrainian community and the cause of multiculturalism, he was appointed to the Order of Canada.

Two themes have been constant in Mr Decore's extraordinary career – integrity and vision – and his impact has been profound and positive. A recipient of numerous major awards, he is a role model for the ages.

The University of Alberta Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Mr Laurence Decore:

Paterik Pecherskii (Patericon of the Caves). Kiev, Press of the Lavra, 1760. Forty-four engravings by Tarasevich. In a full leather binding with hasps.

A rare, early volume from a Ukrainian press, this work describes the lives and teachings of the Holy Fathers of the Kiev Monastery of the Caves, including Antonii Pecherskii, Isakii the Hermit, Alumpii the icon painter, and many others. The engravings are particularly memorable. This volume is a significant addition to the library's major holdings of Ukrainian history and literature.

Honorary Degree Recipient

In her 95th vital and active year, Mrs Harriet Snowball Winspear is a central member of the Edmonton community.

Mrs Winspear was born in Winnipeg in 1904. When she was eight years of age, her family relocated to Vancouver where she lived until her move to Edmonton in 1960. In 1922 she attended the University of British Columbia and, in what would prove to be her first action in a lifetime of community commitment, marched in the "Great Trek" that helped prompt the BC government to provide the University with a proper campus. The following year, she enrolled in business college.

In 1928, she married Harry Snowball and together they raised two sons, John and Jeffrey. They shared 48 years together before Harry died in 1976. During this time, she was very active in the Vancouver community, including a term as Chair of the Women's Division of the United Way.

In 1960, the Snowballs moved to Edmonton and she immediately became involved in the United Way and other important local causes. In 1980, she married Edmonton businessman and philanthropist Francis Winspear, '51 LLD(Hon).

This next stage of Mrs Winspear's life was devoted to the "younger generation". She entertained young musicians in her home and encouraged her husband to support them. She also introduced these young people to others in the community who might help them. As she continues to do today, she visited inner city schools and summer camps for disadvantaged children and reported back to the boards and foundations that she was involved with that "these children need our help".

Today, Mrs Winspear is an active member of the Edmonton Opera Board and the Winspear Foundation and serves as Honorary Chair of the Arts Development Council of the Faculty of Arts, University of Alberta. She continues to speak about issues that matter to her and support the people she believes in. Her efforts have been recognized with numerous honors including the Edmonton YWCA Woman of Distinction Award and the Edmonton Rotary Club Paul Harris Fellow Award.

Mrs Winspear remains an inspiration to others through her enormous voluntary contributions to Edmonton and its surrounding communities.

The University of Alberta Senate is donating the following volumes to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Mrs Harriet Snowball Winspear:

Charles Compañ's Dictionnaire de danse, contenant l'histoire, les règles & les principes de cet art, Paris, Cailleau, 1787.

This work is the rare first edition of the very first dictionary of dance. Setting forth a common language by which to teach, study, and appreciate this art form, it also includes sections on dances from China, Egypt, and Canada.

The second selection is:

François Henri Joseph Castil-Blaze's Dictionnaire de musique moderne, Bruxelles, l'Académie de musique, 1828.

A very uncommon, thorough, and significant work by a French music critic, this first edition reflects many aspects of the Romantic music movement.

The list of candidates for degrees, certificates, and diplomas appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically. The winner of the most prestigious award in each faculty, if attending, is presented first.

Honorary Degree Recipient

Dr James Fraser Mustard of Toronto, founding president of the Canadian Institute for Advanced Research, is a path-breaking research pathologist, an academic statesman, a policy analyst and advisor and an innovator of uncommon distinction.

Dr Mustard began his career healing individuals as a physician. He then focused on medical research to benefit a wider range of people. He has written nearly 500 articles in medical science, concentrating on cardiovascular disease and became the most cited scientist in his field, particularly in the area of platelet function and thrombosis. His discoveries include important links in the way aspirin benefits heart attack and stroke patients.

Dr Mustard also contributed greatly to the training of medical doctors. He first worked at the University of Toronto, from 1957-1966, then moved to McMaster University where he helped establish an innovative medical school. He became the first chairman of the Department of Pathology and served as Dean and Vice-President, Health Sciences, from 1972-1982.

In 1982 Dr Mustard sought an even broader base for improving the health and standard of living for Canadians, and people worldwide, by founding the Canadian Institute for Advanced Research (CIAR). He served as its president from 1982 to 1996 and remains founding president and fellow, now working as head of the Founders' Network with those who helped build the institute.

CIAR is an "institute without walls", a research network that involves over 160 researchers in Canada, the USA, Australia, Europe, Israel, Japan and New Zealand. By providing for interactions between these researchers, and buying time from non-research duties, CIAR has greatly increased research productivity. CIAR links Canadian and international researchers in dynamic networks that span several combinations of disciplines and address a broad spectrum of fundamental natural health and social science problems. The research support provided by CIAR has been a key factor in helping to reverse the brain drain by attracting many researchers to Canada and by helping to retain them here.

In each of CIAR's research programs, the primary goal is to gain a greater understanding of our world, our place in it, and what can be achieved socially and technologically. The output from CIAR programs has led to important technological achievements and has influenced public and private policies in science, technology, economic growth, health and human development.

Dr Mustard has served on numerous boards and commissions including a post as co-chair of the Early Years Learning Study for Ontario. This group produced the influential report Early Years Study – Reversing the Real Brain Drain, which showed that a child's earliest experiences and interactions with adults and children during the first six years of life, and especially the first three, are of paramount importance for brain development and have profound consequences for lifelong learning, behaviour and health.

An insightful and visionary scientist, Dr Mustard has received numerous prestigious honors and in 1994 was named as a Companion of the Order of Canada.

The University of Alberta Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Dr J Fraser Mustard:

John Richardson's Wacousta; or, The Prophecy: A Tale of Detroit and Michillimackinac, contained in Waldie's Select Circulating Library, Vol. II. Philadelphia, Waldie, 1833.

This unglamorous volume with its small print is actually one of the great rarities in Canadian literature, written by Canada's first native-born novelist. Following in the tradition of historical romances by Scott and Cooper, it tells of intrigue and violence between British soldiers and Ottawa Indians at Fort Detroit, and the great native leader Pontiac. Its enthralling, haunting narrative anticipates many themes of later Canadian literature.

First published in London, this was the tale's first appearance in America, serialized in 38 numbers of a literary magazine. It was not published in Canada until 1868. It represents a wonderful addition to the library's vast Canadiana holdings.

The list of candidates for degrees and diplomas appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically according to the establishment date of each faculty and degree. The winner of the most prestigious award in each faculty, if attending, is presented first.

The University Coat of Arms

On November 15, 1909, a motion by the faculty recommended to the Senate the adoption by the University of the provincial coat of arms, with the addition of an open book above the shield and the motto Lux et Lex; the words "University of Alberta" were to be attached as might seem fit. The present motto was substituted in January 1911 for the one originally proposed. In 1950 the representation of the coat of arms was altered to conform better to the principles of heraldic design but these arms were never actually registered.

In 1994 a new coat of arms incorporating a number of traditional symbols associated with the University or the Province, or with learning, was officially granted by the Canadian Heraldic Authority. In non-technical language, it consists of the following elements:

Shield: a representation of the topography of Alberta (wheat fields, hills, rivers, and the Rocky Mountains) derived from the provincial coat of arms, and a book symbolizing learning.

Crest: a Great Horned Owl, the provincial bird and a traditional symbol of wisdom.

Supporters: a pronghorn, taken from the provincial coat of arms, and a golden bear, long the University mascot, standing on a mound of wild roses, the floral emblem of Alberta.

Motto: Quaecumque vera. ("Whatsoever things are true," Philipians 4:8)

The arms are copyrighted and may not be used without permission of the Board of Governors. The name of the University is similarly protected.

University Mace and Ceremonial Chairs

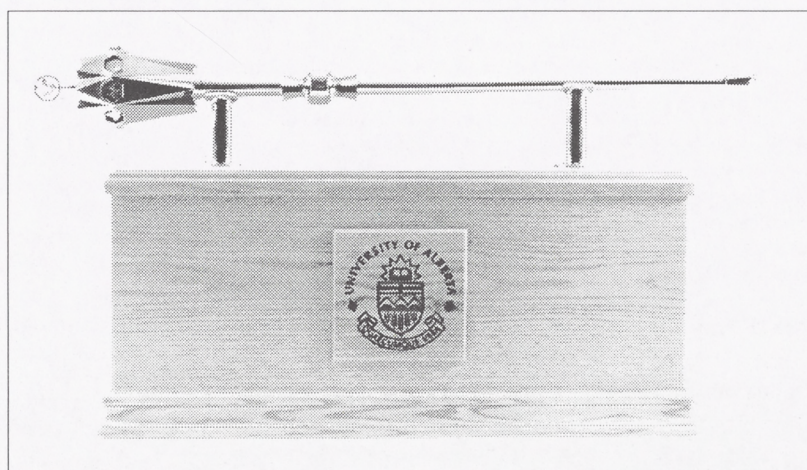

The University of Alberta Mace was designed and crafted specifically for the University as a gift from Dr Francis Phillip Galbraith, Chancellor of the University of Alberta from 1964 to 1970. It was presented by his son, Michael Galbraith, on behalf of his father on May 26, 1970.

Among its elements are the Star of Saint Thomas Aquinas, the Patron Saint of Scholars; the Wild Rose of Alberta; the Maple Leaf; and the separate charges which make up the University's Emblem. The University motto "Quaecumque Vera" ("Whatsoever Things Are True" Phil 4:8) encircles the staff. The Mace is made of sterling silver which was rhodium plated after the insertion of the various enamelled shields which make up its elements. A special electroplate process was used to apply 24 karat gold to other parts of the Mace.

It was intended that the Mace should be modern in appearance but with medieval origins. The preponderance of visual weight at the top of the staff and the rather complex section through the metalwork at this point are reminiscent of the use of the mace as a weapon, defensive or aggressive.

The Mace is carried before the Chancellor, or Vice-Chancellor, in procession and rests on its stand in full view of the assembly during Convocation. Centuries ago the Mace was a symbol of authority over life and death. Today it represents power – but the power of knowledge and the importance of the University in the community.

The Chancellor's Chair was presented to the University of Alberta as a gift from the 1922 graduating class. It is made of solid oak with a padded leather back and seat. Above the padded leather back is carved the University motto "Quaecumque Vera" together with the class year, 1922, and the University emblem.

In 1987, the family and friends of Dr Charles Malcolm Macleod, Chair of the Board of Governors from 1950 to 1966, presented a memorial gift to the University of an oak stand for the University of Alberta Mace and two additional chairs for use by the President and the Chair of the Board of Governors at Convocation.

History of Convocation

In the eleventh century, a new vitality quickened all aspects of the civilization of Western Europe. The creative forces thus unleashed soon found expression in new institutions, and of these the university bids fair to be the most enduring. The modern university is the lineal descendant of the university of the Middle Ages. Its purposes and organization, even much of its ceremonial, are medieval in origin.

The medieval university was originally called a studium generale, that is, a place of learning to which teachers and students from anywhere resorted. The first studia were at Salerno, Bologna, and Paris. These came into existence spontaneously and developed through the twelfth century as the needs of the time and their inner necessities dictated. In the thirteenth century these spontaneous associations crystallized into guilds or corporations endowed by Church and State with specific privileges which guaranteed the internal autonomy necessary for the vocation of study. To these corporations was increasingly applied the word universitas denoting the entire group of those responsible for the transmission of higher learning and the pursuit of knowledge.

By the beginning of the fourteenth century, two forms of university organization had appeared. At Bologna, primarily a higher school of canon and civil law to which came men experienced in ecclesiastical and secular administration, the control of the studium generale passed to the students; hence Bologna was a universitas scholarum. On the other hand in Paris and Oxford, whose dominant faculty was the Faculty of Arts, the studium emerged under the direction of a guild of teachers, a universitas magistrorum. Through its own officials, notably the chancellor (once symbol of external control and by now of internal autonomy), the guild of teachers developed its courses of instruction, administered its own affairs and admitted to its company only those who had met its intellectual standards. The University of Alberta stands in the tradition of Paris and Oxford.

Originally the goal of the medieval student was certification by the guild of teachers that he also was qualified to teach (the licentia docendi). With the passage of time the student's progress through the curriculum was marked by ceremonies which signified his successful attainment of a certain level (gradus or in modern language, degree) of competence. The Bachelor had completed his apprenticeship in the Faculty of Arts.

The Master was now qualified to teach in that Faculty and was thus incorporated into the universitas magistrorum. The Doctor was one who, having obtained the mastership, had successfully completed the curriculum of one of the "higher" faculties (in the Middle Ages, law, medicine, and theology) and was now qualified to teach in those faculties. Inevitably the degrees of the universitas did more than admit their holders to the teaching profession. They served the wider social purpose of demonstrating their holders' fitness to serve the entire medieval community.

Today's ceremony stems from the medieval tradition. The procession of the guild of teachers, whose solemn assembly, or convocation, is the modern equivalent of the medieval magna congregatio of all faculties, is lead by the Chancellor and the Chief Marshal carrying the mace, the symbol of the University's corporate authority. The academic gowns, hoods, and caps, once the sober, disciplined dress of secular clergy and teachers, declare in their various designs and colours the academic qualifications of the Faculty. The citations and presentations by the Faculty to the Chancellor attest to him and to society the degree of proficiency attained by the students of the University. There follows a visible and public act whereby the universitas magistrorum, acting through its Chancellor, confers upon the students the appropriate degree. It is the act, not a certificate, which constitutes the validity of the degree bestowed. More, the formula, "I admit you" and the placing of the students' hands within the hands of the Chancellor and his associates, bind the students in the appropriate degree to the universitas magistrorum. The students thereafter bear for all time the mark of their association with this University. They have received what the University has been and presently is. Because they bear in themselves the promise of the future, they are what the University hopes to be. Despite its solemnity, convocation is a joyous occasion.

The history of academic dress reaches far back into early days of the oldest universities. A statute of 1321 required that all "Doctors, Licentiates, and Bachelors" of the University Coimbra wear gowns. In England, in the second half of the fourteenth century, the statutes of certain colleges forbade "excess apparel" and prescribed the wearing of a long gown. It is still a controversial question as to whether academic dress finds its sources chiefly in ecclesiastical or in civilian dress. Gowns may have been counted necessary for warmth in the unheated buildings frequented by medieval scholars. Hoods seem to have served to cover the tonsured head until superseded for that purpose by the skull cap. This was itself displaced by a headdress more or less like one or another of those now recognized as "academic." (The mortar board, the hard, square cap commonly used as academic headdress today, evolved from the softer, more flexible "square cap" that was introduced in England in about 1490 and is named for the square board on a handle used by stone masons for holding the mixed mortar to be applied to walls.) Both Cambridge and Oxford have made academic dress a matter of university control to the extent of even its minor details and have repeatedly issued revised regulations. In Laudian days in Oxford it was prescribed that any tailor who departed from authorized design "even by a nail's breadth" in the making of any article of collegiate costume was to be punished by the vice-chancellor of the university.

Academic dress at the University of Alberta generally follows the prescription of Cambridge University in the design of the gown, and that of Oxford University in the design of the hood. The following page provides a detailed description of the academic dress at this institution.

In addition to the apparel worn by holders of degrees conferred by the University of Alberta, a collection of apparel specific to particular offices has also been developed. The President of the University wears a green gown faced with gold braid trim and lining and a green cap with a gold tassel. The Chancellor and Chancellors Emeriti wear gowns of teal blue with silver trim and black caps with silver tassels. The gowns of the senior officials bear an embroidered crest of the University. University Governors and Senators wear stoles bearing the crest of the University over their gowns: gold for Governors and green for Senators. The University Registrar wears a green gown with gold trim on the sleeves.

Graduates and staff of the University of Alberta who wish to purchase their own academic apparel are invited to contact the Convocation Officer in the Office of the Registrar and Student Awards.

Academic Dress

All undergraduate and master's degree gowns are the customary Cambridge shape, ie. a gown of black material falling below the knee with full sleeves cut to the elbow and terminating in a point. Hoods are made in the Oxford pattern of spruce green material. The Bachelor's hood has a border three inches wide of the color distinctive of the Faculty as noted below. The Masters' hood has a full lining of the color distinctive of the Faculty also noted below. Mortarboards are the standard black trencher shape with black tassels, which are worn forward and to the left.

Doctorate Degrees

Doctors' gowns (PhD, DMus, and EdD) conform to the Intercollegiate Code in design. They are made of black material and the velvet trim on the sleeves is Philosophy Blue for the PhD and DMus, and Education Light Blue for the EdD. Doctor's hoods conform to the Intercollegiate Code in shape, size, and color. They are made of black material to match the gown, and have a full lining of gold satin with a six-inch green satin chevron. The velvet trim distinguishes the two degrees and matches the velvet trim on the gown's sleeves. There is a narrow green piping where the gold lining joins the black material. Mortarboards are the standard black trencher shape with black tassels, which are worn forward and to the left.

Honorary Doctorates

Honorary Doctors of Laws, Letters, and Science wear a scarlet robe faced with white silk. Hoods are made in the Cambridge form of scarlet silk with a full lining of white silk. Caps are black velvet with a gold tassel.

This Convocation Program is printed on recycled paper containing at least 55% recycled fiber including 15% post-consumer waste paper.

If you can, please share this program with a companion. Then, if you do not take it home, please leave it (in good repair) on the table outside the doors as you exit the auditorium. This will help us ensure that someone else can use it on another day of Convocation, and subsequently conserve paper.
Thank you for your assistance.
